

AFN Bavaria is located on Rose Barracks, Vilseck, Germany, home of the Joint Multi-national Training Command, 2nd Cavalry (Stryker) Regiment and U.S. Army Garrison Grafenwoehr. With radio transmitters broadcasting programming in the Grafenwoehr and Hohenfels Training Areas, as well as Bad Aibling and Garmisch, AFN Bavaria provides local information and top quality programs throughout southeast Germany. On February 01, 2008, AFN Bavaria began servicing the communities of Bamberg, Ansbach/Katterbach/Illesheim, and Schweinfurt, previously served by AFN Franconia, due to the closure of its home base of Leighton Barracks in Wurzburg. The station increased its audience size overnight from 31,000 to approximately 80,000.

Major Communities/Commands Served:
